Mason & Hamlin Co.,
146—Boylston St., Boston
Gentlemen:—The piano has had as eventful a career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

Italy

The Chambers.

Agreement between the Government and Opposition Party.

Major Salza.

France and Abyssinia.

Rome, 21st—The Chambers opened with a large attendance of Deputies with Mr. Villa in the chair. The discussion on withdrawing the troops from Africa was again resumed by Mr. Guilliano, who appealed to the House to oppose this movement, Deputy De Marini answered in favor of peace. Mr. Faroni in his speech used some rather aggressive expressions and was called to order by the President, but as no notice was taken of the reprimand, a considerable tumult followed and took some time to quell. After long discussion on the part of both parties, the sitting closed till to-morrow, when the voting result will be known.

Owing to Major Salza's influence, the Italian prisoners who for some time have been reduced to begging for their food, were accepted by Ras Makonnen, who has promised to provide for them. It seems that after the battle of Abbi-Garima, the Negus Menelik wrote to President Faure informing him of his victory over the Italians.

This affair has created some bad feeling here, and probably the Government will be called on to answer the right of France interferring in Abyssinia.

The Chamber continued to-day the debate on the war credit asked for by the Government. The sitting was a stormy one; but eventually the 140 millions lire were voted by 214 to 57 votes. The Chamber immediately adjourned its sittings till the 28th April.

During the debate a violent altercation took place between the ex-Minister for war, General Mocenni, and Deputy Barzilai in reference to the proposal to recall Baratieri, which, according to the latter, was entertained by Signor Crispi as soon as the disaster of Amba Alagi was known. Barzilai condemned Mocenni in most violent tems for not having superseded the General. When the sitting had been concluded the seconds of General Mocenni and Signor Barzilai met to arrange for a duel.

During the course of the debate Signor Rudini declared that the friendship of England completed the system of alliances formed by Italy and also added that the peace-negotiations with the Negus Menelik were progressing favourably

The official Gazette publishes this evening the text of the commercial convention with the Argentine Republic.

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.

The Belligerency Debate Postponed.

Weyler thinks he has quelled the Rebellion.

Weyler burned in Effigy.

Washington, 21st—The debate in the Senate on the question of Cuban belligerency has been postponed until Monday next. This decision was carried in spite of the opposition made by the advocates of Cuban independence.

The vote of censure passed by the Chamber on Mr. Bayard, American Minister in London, on account of his outspokenness in regard to international questions, has given rise to much comment.

New York, 21st—The armament recently seized near Cárdenas is, according to Spanish versions, part of the cargo shipped from Cayo Hueso for the rebels.

Trenton (New Jersey), 21st.—The students burned Weyler's effigy last night. They then marched in procession through the streets shouting Down with Spain! and Long live Cuba! No disturbances occurred.

New York, 21st—The North American Consul in Puerto Rico—with reference to the recent supposed assault—reports that the shots fired were not directed at him, and that the authorities immediately put the soldiers under arrest. The incident was very much exaggerated.

It is inferred that affairs must be serious in Pinar del Rio, for according to the latest despatches (from Spanish sources) eight trains left Havanah yesterday with troops to reinforce the Royal forces in that Province.

Madrid, 21st—The Government have received a telegram from General Weyler announcing the complete success of his military operations and the complete rout of the rebels. The General states that the rebellion will be soon over.

New York, 21st—A member of the Cuban Revolutionary Committeee stated to-day that the armament captured by the Spaniards near Cárdenas is of little importance, since the bulk of the cargo has already been safely received by the Revolutionists.

Havannah, 21st—The Spanish cruisers have captured several vessels with cargoes of armament.

Madrid, 21st—The public subscription to help the Government in the war in Cuba is giving grand results, and the donations for the families of the soldiers who have been killed are equally successful. Patriotic manifestations continue daily in most of the large cities.

THE AFRICAN DIFFICULTIES.

France remains silent.

The Dervishes Repulsed.

Another Expedition to the Transvaal.

Paris, 21st—The Press are quite silent on the subject of the Egyptian difficulty; and the public convictlon is that fresh complications will soon be forthcoming.

London, 21—A telegram from Cairo states that the Board of the Foreign Debt met this afternoon in that city to consider the question of the expenses of the Dongola expedition. All the representatives of the European Powers interested, were present. Opinions were divided and nothing definite was decided. To-morrow or on Monday another meeting will be held.

London, 21st—Replying to a member, Mr. Arthur James Balfour stated that the measures adopted were of a nature to ensure the success of the expedition to Dongola. This expedition, he said, was not for British but Egyptian interests, since the territory acquired would be annexed to Egypt.

Berlin, 21st—The German papers approve England's conduct in the Egyptian question. The National Zeitung states England more than any other power knows the importance of Egypt and will preserve order there as long as the occupation lasts.

Paris, 21st—Only a certain number of papers attack Great Britain with reference to the Dongola expedition. It is believed in high circles that France will directly oppose British policy in Egypt.

Rome, 21st—The Dervishes round Kassala are operating most actively. They attacked three towns four times, but were repulsed with heavy losses. Osman Digma has ordered them to retreat towards Merve.

United Kingdom

London, 21st—Telegrams from Russia report the discory of a fresh conspiracy against the Czar's life. Several arrests have already been made.

France

Paris, 21st—President Faure will make a tour in the North of France in May. The Prime Minister Bourgeois and other Cabinet Ministers will go with him, to Lille, Arras, Dunkerque and other large towns in the North of France.

Telegrams from Algiers report serious fights on the Morocco frontier between native tribes, with many killed and wounded on both sides.

The Deputies commenced this afternoon the debate on the income-tax proposed to be levied by the Bourgeois Cabinet. The committee report is unfavourable to the scheme and the majority of the Chamber is also believed to be opposed to it. Should the proposa be thrown out, it is an open question what the Ministry would do.

Portugal

Lisbon, 21st—The dock hands in the port have demanded incr eased wages and threaten to strike if they are refused

Greece

Athens, 21st—King George proposes to take his cousin the Emperor William a tour next month throug the Southern Provinces of this Kingdom.

Germany

Berlin, 21st—The Finance Committee of the Reichstag has reported favourably on the Bill presented by Government concerning stock-exchange operation. It is almost certain that the Reichstag will also vote the measure.

Chile

The International question.

Argentine Propositions refused.

Earthquakes in Valparaiso.

The new Chilian Ironclad.

Santiago, 21st—The principal newspapers commented to-day on the international question between the two countries. Several parties consider that war is imminent, and that Argentina will take the first step, and as Chile is well prepared the intruders will meet with a warm reception. The cause of the bad feeling is put down greatly to some articles from the Buenos Aires Prensa.

The Argentine propositions seem to meet with certain obstacles which so far have not been explained. These items are taken from the Diario, which says that the Ministers and the Argentine Representative could not agree.

General Korner is reported to have said that he did not like the idea of war and that he much preferred to see the two nations united.

It was known this afternoon that the Government had rejected Argentina's proposition for the settlement of the limits' dispute. Later on it was said that the Argentine Minister had asked for his passports.

The earthquake shocks still continue in Valparaiso. The scare is so great that several families have gone to the camp. The fatal day of the 29th has caused a great depression, and for this reason the greater part of the well known families are retiring to their estancias.

El Liberal Democratico announces that the military plans for the coming manœuvres have been stolen. Argentines are put down for the theft.

The rumours yesterday were that Chile had bought a powerful ironclad for one million pounds sterling. It appears the vessel was picked up in Germany. Other quarters say that the vessel is still in construction.

The new ironclad is a 12.000 toner, built by Armstrong, and is said to be one of the most powerful afloat. The Chilian Government gives the enormous sum of one million sterling. The vessel is to be called the O'Higgins.

Brazil

Sanitary Agreement.

Yellow Fever.

Rio Janeiro, 21st—Instead of drawing up a contract between Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay, the Brazilian Government has decided to make a settlement with each consecutive country, the principal clause will be with Argentina.

There were 40 more deaths from yellow fever yesterday.

Exchange on Loedon 8 ¾.

Argentine Republic

The Alarm in Parana.

Parana, 21st—The alarm was so great during the night that the police were kept under arms till this morning. Several arrests were made. General Leyria and officers have arrived. The river has risen 4 centimetres.

ROSARIO

Rosario, 21st—A meeting was held last night to form a petition on the present electioneering rules. The affair, however, is kept very quiet. The general movement is all in the political line. Nothing new in cereals, prices like yesterday, sellers stand out for a rise.

CLANGOR TUBARUM AGAIN.

The whole town was thrown into commotion last evening by the telegram from Chile announcing the complete rejection by the Chilian Government of the terms proposed by the Argentine. Nothing could be more serious, since it is rumored that Minister Quirno Costa has telegraphed for permission to demand his passports, and the great danger now is that any overt act by some irresponsible officer on the frontier may pricipitate events, as it is not to be supposed that either the Chilian or the Argentine Government will declare war. The attitude of the Chilian Government is an indirect provocation corresponding perhaps more with the excited public feeling of that country than with the wise and prudent counsels of the men who direct its affairs. From the all the advices received during the last six months, from the tone of the Chilian press and the speeches of its public men, it was painfully evident that the policy of the Santiago Government was not in harmony with the general feeling of the people. Cabinets rose and fell and crisis followed crisis. The military spirit of Chile since the conquest of Perú has always been a dangerous element and every Government that has succeeded since the fall of Balmaceda has been obliged to coquet with that bellicose tendency. The Argentine Government has, for the last twelve months, had the same difficulty to contend with, and whilst the policy of every Argentine Cabinet has been notoriously in favour of peace, the military spirit in every barrack-room of the National Guard has been raising its head. The danger, therefore, that surrounds last night's telegrams from Chile is that the slumbering ashes of militarism in these countries may be fanned into a flame, and the slightest indiscretion of some subordinate official on either side of the Andes or the tipsy patriotism of some frontier "teniente alcalde", may plunge both countries into a war the sequel of which he indeed would be a wise man who could fore-tell.

We shall not despair, however, of the peaceful solution of this seemingly interminable Chilian Question, so long as the public men of both countries appraise at its full value the mediation of friendly European powers which, we feel quite certain, will be most willingly afforded, since the European interests at stake are almost tantamount to those of the very disputants themselves.

THE STORM IN AFRICA.

Havas and Reuter are throwing more light on the Dark Continent than ever did the Bible, Homer, Herodotus, or the scientific Maspero. New names, new places, not to say anything of new expeditions—the public must be quite bewildered, but it can never be forgotten that Africa has swallowed up thousands of men and millions of money. The sirocco blows scattered leaves of history across the desert, and one cannot mention the name of the Dark Continent without thinking of the fate of Prince Napoleon and Prince Battenberg, without experiencing a creeping sensation, as if the eye beheld the ghosts of those who fell at Ishandala or perished in the Soudan. The veil of Isis is thrown over Africa. Misfortune overtakes him who tries to lift it.

And yet with all these sad experiences, and the failure of Italy's efforts to conquer Abyssinia, the powers are scrambling for Africa and organizing fresh expeditions. The latest is an expedition headed by English officers, which has left Suez to place itself under the command of Cecil Rhodes — another Colossus perhaps.

This new venture seems to be a preparation for another Jameson Ride, as if the Chartered Company were determined to step from disaster to disaster in search of the mineral treasures of Transvaal. Men camels and money there are for the expedition—there is nothing wanting but a pretext.

The Dongola Expedition is already on its way under the command of General Kitchener, and it seems that the Khedive will after all be compelled to defray the cost, for according to a treaty-clause, England is entitled to remove a sum not exceeding 2½ millions sterling from the Egyptian Treasury, with the consent of the majority of the guaranteeing powers.

France says not a word. The Parisian papers are waiting for something to turn up. Russia is reticent. The triple alliance supports England. In the meantime the victorious Menelik is desirous of making peace.

A STORY OF CORRIENTES.

(Written for the STANDARD by W. V. B.)

IV

Although I cannot say I felt thankful to this officer for his good intentions, still I pitied him as he looked very gentlemanly in appearance, and delicate, and had evidenty been suffering many hardships and privations lately, and he appeared wet to the skin. Two of his soldiers who had evidently just killed a "novillo," perhaps one of those I was looking for, arrived loaded with fresh meat which was still warm. They placed some on the fire and were all soon eating "churasco" half raw without salt or bread, which they washed down with "maté."

The soldier they expected soon arrived and the moment he saw me exclaimed Don Guillermo, "caramba," what brought you here. The officer, perceiving he recognized me, asked him about me and he told him who I was and that he never heard of my mixing in politics. The officer then had my feet loosened and begged a thousand pardons for what he had done and said: "I arrested you because the Colorado party are bribing people to find me, and I have been hunted from place to place as if I were a wild beast, and this man that has just come brings me news that in La Cruz they suspect that I am here, and have sent a commision with Major Zarate to capture me dead or alive. And if they dont come and take me to-night by break of day I start to join my companions at Libres. And in less than a week we will drive our enemies out of every town from Libres to Santo Tome."

Seeing he was sorry for what he had done I offered him my brandy flask which he put to his lips and nearly finished its contents and said; "I am like the great and brave English people, for I love good brandy." The juice of the grape soon braced up his nerves and as he said warmed his heart, anyway it loosened his tongue. For when I told him what the old man said about the people that formerly lived under the ombu, he said as my "recado" is wet and the ground to damp to lie on, and in order to pass away the time until daybreak, when I must start on my journey, I will tell you what I have heard about the Virgin of Itati, and commenced as follows:—

It was late one summer evening some years ago, during a revolution, I was sent by my "Jete" with despatches to our people who had taken Santo Tome, and in order to avoid the enemy who were numerous along the Uruguay and would surelykill me if they caught me, I thought it more prudent to go by the Ibera, whose sand hills and high "juncos" made it more easy for me to escape.

The sky was overcast with numerous beautiful clouds of different shapes and colours, and I could not help admiring them as I was making my way through the sand hills towards the great lake Ibera. I at last arrived at a small "ranchito" in which lived an lod Paraguayo and his numerous family who lived minding a few cows and goats that formed all their worldly possessions. I asked leave to stop the night, and it was readily granted. I unsaddled my horse and spread out my "recado" in the form of a bed on the green clover that carpeted the ground under some large orange trees that sheltered the "rancho". Looking to east, could be seen for leagues a desert of "malezales" to the south could be seen the three pretty Cerros of La Cruz, and to the west a splendid view of the lake Ibera. The clear fresh water of the lake ran within fifteen yards of the "rancho", and along its coast were large quantities of "juncos", and towards the centre of the lake could be seen the mysterious floating islands which the winds move about, and some of them no human being has explored, and are said to be inhabited by fairies, and on clear calm nights, as the stars reflect their lights on its waters like on some huge mirrors, are said to be heard the crowing of cocks, and tolling of bells, and children are said to descend from heaven and play on those islands, and accompanied by sweet celestial music can be seen the vaporous form of the Virgin of Itati gliding over the silvery waves.

The two large crosses that were planted at the edge of the lake still exist, and helped to make the sunset all the more mysterious and romantic, especially as a high wind had arisen and it had got dark and cloudy. And light was rapidly fading into darkness, reminding me of the words of Moore:

> All that's bright must fade,
> The brightest still the fleetest;
> All that's sweet was made,
> But to be lost, when sweetest.

The old man who had been shutting in his cattle arrived and said: What are you doing outside "Señor"? Come in immediately and take shelter from the strong wind. The old man appeared to be frightened, and on asking him the cause of his fear, he took me by the hand, and was leading me out into the darkness towards the lake, when we felt something strike us on the shoulder and at the same time heard a noise as of a person falling, "Santa Virgen", the old man cried, and in one moment ran into the "rancho" which he hastily closed. The fear displayed by the old Paraguayo made me feel uneasy, although it was only caused by one of the old orange trees that had got blown down by the wind and in falling hit us on the shoulder with its branches.

THE ENGLISH IN EGYPT.

THE DONGOLA EXPEDITION.

There is no disguising the fact that John Bull and his island are playing a big part in the destinies of the world. The old man has been a hard hitter and a hard drinker ever since he quaffed his wine from the skulls of his slain enemies. The same old rascal has a lot of fight in him still, and what is almost of equal importance is the fact that his long purse makes it possible to pay others to fight his battles for him. He has the commerce of half the world at his back, and history teaches us that commerce and civilization have ever been twin sisters.

Beyond the expansion of the Anglo-Saxon race, the mission of England has been to carry the blessings of a strong central Government and a powerful administration to millions of human beings in an empire which stretches around the globe. In Egypt Britain has acted a part not unworthy of her traditions. She found an empty treasury and enormous debt, where to-day the revenue shews a yearly surplus. Irrigation works have been constructed, and the whole country has been put under a better form of government than it has previously enjoyed since the time of the Pharaohs. In spite of the protests of Madame France and the Russian bear, it is very evident that John's burly hand is tightening over the "Land of the Nile." One little year ago a detachment of British troops occupied Wadelai, the capital of the Equatorial provinces, so long and gallantly held by Emir Pasha. To-day we have a British expedition being fitted out for the conquest of Dongola, in the Nubian desert, ostensibly to create a diversion in favour of the Italians in Kassala. That, of course, is absurd. The Soudan is a big country, and it is hardly probable that the people of the Eastern Soudan will ever hear of the expedition to Dongola much less be affected by it. However, that does not matter to John. He has now to face the problem of connecting the links of his chain along the valley of the Nile.

The Dongolese will be more or less favourable to British rule. When the writer was serving under the Egyptian flag in the Soudan, the Mudir of Dongola made a most gallant stand against the Mahdistas, driving them back time after time, but he was eventually overwhelmed by numbers. The habitable portion of Dongola is a mere strip along the valley of the Nile, made productive solely by the facilities for irrigation afforded by the great river; the creak of the "Sakeeyah" or water wheel used for raising water is one of the things which are not easily forgotten. The strip of palms, the mud huts, the rapid flowing river, and away at the back, the parched surface of the desert, quivering in the sunshine, form the limits of the world to most of the inhabitants of Nubia. The Nile is nameless to Africans. In its lower course, it is reverently termed "El-Bahr". The River. Its tributaries are named respectively, Bahr el Aswat, (The Black river), Bahr el Azrek, (The blue river), and Bahr el Abiad, (The white river).

This reverence for the great river is easily understood when it is remembered that for the last thousand miles of its course the Nile does not receive a single tributary; most people are more or less familiar with the story of the various English expeditions to the Soudan. The Nile campaign was in its way a wonder, although it failed in its object. It is truly a terrible country to get through with regular troops, the difficulties of transport are almost insuperable for an army of any size. The Soudanese shewed all the traditional bravery of the old Ethiopian race, and on more than one occasion made things so warm for a time, that the issue was somewhat doubtful.

In this Dongola affair, however, no serious fighting need be expected. The Dongolese, as settled agriculturists, will be either favourable or passive; and the Mahdistas will not send a force so far north capable of offering any serious resistance. Dongola is very near the cradle of our civilization. The celebrated Isle of Meroe, enclosed by the Nile, the Bahr el Aswat and the Bahr el Asrek, was at one time the most civilised part of the world; and it is now a moot point whether the current of civilization flowed up or down the valley of the Nile. By the way, we shall soon see the British flag flying in Dongola; and from this base it is comparatively easy to conquer Khartoum. This expedition will also do much to popularize British rule in Egypt.

All developments in this direction will be watched with interest.

JOHANNESBURG.

We have received to many letters enquiring about this now most celebrated African city, that we readily make room for the following, which has been kindly sent us by a subscriber, and which will satisty the curiosity of all intending emigrants from the Plate to South Africa:—

"Johannesburg, the London of South Africa, which was nine years ago barren veldt, eight years ago a miners' camp, is now the centre of some one hundred thousand inhabitants, and increasing about as fast as bricks and mortar can be obtained. It is situated directly on top of the gold, and on looking down from the high ground above, it looks to an English eye like a huge, long-drawn-out mass of tin sheds, with its painted iron mine chimneys running in a straight line all along t he quartz gold reef as far as you can see in either direction. The largest or main reef runs for thirty miles uninterruptedly, gold-bearing and honeycombed with mines throughout. This, even were it alone, could speak for the stability and continued prosperity of the Transvaal gold trade. On a mail steamer arriving only a few days ago from the Cape was said to be between £300,000 and £400,000 worth of gold, and the newspapers show that usually about £100,000 worth is consigned by each mail boat.

"For those who go to earn their livelihood, or to make money, I would say, do not go out without a fixed trade or handicraft, or money to start upon, or a good introduction to some friend already there. But, remember that the Transvaal is a veritable Paradise for the working man who known his business. All the heavy part of the labour is put out; the Kaffirs do it, directed by him in a few Kaffir words, and generally many English expletives. Wages are paid monthly. Miners make their twenty-five or thirty pounds a month, if first-rate, and the blacks drill their holes for blasting where and as they order them. Carpenters, blacksmiths, masons can get about the same; and whenever a billet is lost or cannot be obtained, a short tramp along the mines generally brings success. Vacancies are constantly occurring, for miners, especially when full of money, are inclined to "go on the burst," and their places are ruthlessly filled up (on Monday mornings is the best time to apply) by new comers, in order to keep the work going at fever heat, and the output up to the mark. When in cash, these miners often spend six or eight pounds at a sitting, and twenty or thirty pounds in a day or two. A freemasonry exists amongst them, and when one gets into trouble with the authorities, half a dozen turn up to bail him out, or to pay the iniquitously heavy fine imposed by the cunning Dutch officials, who know they will be paid, as the alternative time is too valuable to the delinquent.

"The miners, except when close to Johannesburg or a town, live in white men's quarters built of wood and corrugated iron; and the mines succeed one another some few miles apart along the open veldt or plain, without a tree to break its barreness, so the surroundings are grim and uninviting enough. Many miners have horses, many bicycles, the latter just the thing for the long, dry, sandy roads. They feed at a common boarding-house for five or six pounds a month, and sleep two, often four or more, in a small room. No class ever cared less for personal comforts. They pay highly, as money comes in so easily, and without grumbling. Their relaxation, as is natural in places so monotonous and unlovely, is dissipation, and so a steady man can save a small fortune in an incredibly short space of time. Most of those inclined to save have their banking accounts, and very large sums of money are sent monthly to wives and families at home.

"Ten shillings for shoeing a horse should tempt a blacksmith. Go out, by all means, anyone who has a trade and good health, and you have what is in serious language the best chance in the world of making money there. The utterly free life of South Africa has such a charm also, that, as the the colonists tell you, put on the veldt schoons (untanned leather shoes) and drink "Cape Smoke" (local attempt at brandy), you will never leave the country; and it has a fascination which is believed invariably to attract back to it all who have been there.

NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

As we plough into the season there is an appreciable improvement in the card, that for to-day being so far the best we have had yet. The principal item is the mare's race, which will be a good one, though we hear Mignonette is not quite wound up, so that Primera will probably carry the weight of money; Espinge, on her Montevidean form, is considered a very good thing by many, and Fox should have a following, as also Madreselva, so that the issue is by no means a foregone conclusion. We shall expect to see Primera win and Espinge in a place. Clandestino and Lady Beautiful may be relied on for the second. Yerua will be prime favourite in the long distance, though we prefer Ciro, and Demonio can hardly miss the sprint. The General Zapiola pair are not out of the mile, and Cantiniere will win the final, our selections therefore being:—

Cordelaa Stakes—		Triunviro.
Satanella	"	Lady Beautiful.
Criadores	"	Primera.
Niobe	"	Ciro.
Leona	"	Demonio.
Santa Lucia	"	Zapiola
La Prensa	"	Cantiniere.

THE COMING PERFORMANCE OF "THE MIKADO."

OPERA HOUSE OR PRINCE GEORGE'S HALL.

To the Editor of the STANDARD,

Dear Sir,

In the "Editor's Table" of your issue of the 15th inst. you took notice of a suggestion which had been made that the Choral Union should give the re-production of "The Mikado" in the Prince George's Hall instead of in one of the theatres.

I am instructed by the Committee of the Choral Union to inform you that they would gadly have complied with this suggestion had it been possible to do so. Before the matter was mentioned by others they had already, in the sincere desire to benefit the Hall, made every effort to compress the performance to the limited capacity of the Hall stage, but entirely without success. On last Monday night, in deference to the "motion" referred to and emphasized by you, another endeavour was made to place the troupe on the stage, but it was found absolutely impossible to do so, even without the principals.

The Committee desire that I should remind you, that having given the opera successfully last year, it would not be fair to the performers nor in any way politic, to cut the caste down to suit the smaller stage, a course which would insvitably cause a deterioration in the presentation of the opera, and might seriously imperil the success of the coming performance, in which some new and attractive features will be introduced which will considerably enhance the effect, and make it even more necessary that there should be ample stage room.

It is for these reasons that the Committee of The Choral Union have been compelled, after the fullest consideration, to secure the Opera House for the 9th April, when they hope to receive equal support to that which the English-speaking community afforded them last year, and to repay that support with a rendering of the opera which shall be worthy of it.

That the Committee are in entire sympathy with the spirit of your suggestion, and hold it to be their undoubted duty, as it is also "their pleasure" to support the Prince George's Hall, is, I believe, sufficiently demonstrated by the fact of the large proportion of their available capital which they have invested in shares of the Hall Company, and by their having immediately that it was possible arranged for the use of the Hall for their rehearsals and concerts for the season, i. e. for every requirement of this Society which could be adequately accommodated there.

Trusting that the foregoing explanation will be found satisfactory to you and to "the generous supporters of our amateur performances" to whom the suggestion for the use of the Hall was addressed.

I am,
Dear Sir,
Yours faithfully
E. Stanley Evill.
Hon. Sec.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Engineers Department has asked permission from Government to change the starting point of the National line to Ledesma and Perico del Carmen,

We learn that Mr. Adams, resident engineer of the Western railway, is away on a vacation trip in Cordoba, and Mr. Jason Rigby, General Manager of the Rosario line, leaves for England next month. There is great movement in railway circles at present, everybody away on vacation or inspection tours.

We regret to hear that Mr. Edwards, accountant of the Rosario line, is down with a severe attack of influenza.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. W. H. Dundas, an old and respected employé of the F. C. R., which sad event took place at his residence, Campana, on the 17th inst. The funeral took place on Thursday and was largely attended by friends and fellow-workmen, the arrangements being superintended by Inspector Grater. The burial service was most impressively read by Mr. H. Martin. The following sent wreaths: Employés of the Campana Running Shed, employes of the San Martin, Coghlan and Baradero Sheds, employés of Locomotive Office, Mr. and Mrs. Gregoretti, Mr. and Mrs. Fosterjohn, Mr. H. Martin and the Campana Christian Mission.

THEATRES.

WHAT THE OPERA COSTS.

Ferrari the Great is bringing out a very costly troupe this year for the opera season, and consequently he has raised his prices, as if he were convinced that the public of B. Ayres is rolling in wealth. Nevertheless, the prices bear no proportion to those enforced in 1890, when we had a troupe of the very first "cartello". In that memorable year we had Tamagno de Lucia and de Marchesi as tenors, Mesdames Colonnese and Gubbi as sopranos, Mesdames Stahl, Leonardi, and Dalte as contraltos, Maurel and Kashsmann as baritones, and the celebrated though ill-starred Mancinellias director of the orchestra. Ferrari was paying Tamagno 16,250 francs for each performance by that unrivalled tenor, and Maurel was paid 8,750 and they were to sing ten times a month. The other artists earned from 3,150 to 5,000 francs per month. Well the price of a box in those days was $100, and at that time there were no less than 40 proprietary boxes, whereas to-day there is only one—that of the owner of the building. The price this season for a box is $180. Ferrari pays his troupe as follows:—

	Per month
Tamagno (tenor)	100,000	francs
Demarchi (tenor)	50,000	"
Darclee (soprano)	36,000	"
Mascheroni (director of chestra)	8,000	"
Pérez Badia (sub-director)	2,500	"
Gini-Pizzorni (soprano)	6,000	"
Torosella (soprano ligera)	6,000	"
V. Guerrini (mezzo soprano)	7,000	"
Elisa Delbruno do do	3,000	"
Camera (baritone)	8,000	"
Besaude do	6,000	"
Ercolani (basso)	5,000	"
De Grazia do	4,000	"
Limonta do	1,500	"
Rossi do	2,000	"
Adela Gasull	1,500	"
Barbieri	1,000	"
Franzini	1,000	"
R. Ramini	1,000	"

And the "abono" to the Opera for the season is as follows:—

	at $	$
54 boxes (1st & 2nd tier)	9,000	476,000
28 " 3rd "	5,000	140,000
8 " Cazuela	1,800	14,000
450 Orchestra-stalls	800	360,000
80 Cazuela "	300	24,000
200 " "	200	40,000
"Gods"		60,000
		1,114,000

Say 1,850,000 francs which the B. Ayres public pays for 10 weeks' opera.

The performance of Rigoletto at the Politeama last night, although very successful in some respects, was not quite satisfactory. Several new artists made their debut, the most successful being Sra. A. Padovani as Gilda, and Sr. F. Pozzi in the title role. The first named possesses a very pleasant voice, the upper notes being exceptionally sweet, and in the aria finishing the first act, but which was made the second act last night, created a very good impression, which was very much accentuated in the duet with Rigoletto, "Si, vendetta," when both artists were called four times and then the curtain had to be raised for the piece to be repeated. Sr. F. Pozzi as Rigoletto was very successful, both in the duet above mentioned and in other music allotted to him. He has a very excellent baritone voice, the use of which he thoroughly understands. Sr. G. Pellegrino, as the Duke of Mantua did not satisfy the audience, Sra. Lafon as Maddalena, and Sr. Thos as the bravo had few opportunities of displaying their powers, but the latter is sure to be heard to greater advantage to-night when he will take the part of "Il Conte Rodolfo" in La Sonambula" when a new tenor, Sr. Maristany, will appear as Elvino.

Thought-reading and hypnotism are all the rage, and perhaps the best exponent of these two things is Sr. Giorgius, who is drawing enormous crowds at the Comedia. Sr. Giorgius is different to all other professors in this particular line, as his performance is all comic. Subjects are drawn from the audience, and at the wish of the audience, he makes them sing, laugh, do acrobatic tricks, and the most nonsensical things imaginable. He will appear at both the afternoon and night performances to-day.

The Kinetophone and Ajeeb, the automaton draught player, return here this week. The locale is Calle Florida 181, opposite the Aguila and they open on Saturday next.

La Belle Geraldini takes her benefit at the Zarzuela on Saturday next, when there is sure to be a crowded house. She will give the Serpentine Dance, as well as her wonderful performance on the trapeze and also her extraordinary exhibition of rifle shooting, at which she really has no rival.

The San Martin theatre again attested last night by the crowds gathered there the exceptional popularity enjoyed by Frank Brown in Buenos Aires. And well does Frank deserve his success and long will be enjoy it if he can always place before his patrons such a fascinating and super-excellent exhibition as the Irish jig which was last night danced simply to absolute perfection by the six charming sisters Barnes. Such dancing has we make bold to affirm never before been witnessed on the boards of any theatre in Buenos Aires. No one should miss it as it is really quite unique and could not be beaten in Erin's isle.

Miss Taylor also surpassed herself last night in her equestrian "haute-ecole" act and was rewarded by thunders of applause from a house that was, if possible, fuller than ever.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Argentine Gold Eagle is fast recovering all his "antiguos brios." He cut such an upward caper yesterday that he was cock of the walk in the news of the day, and knocked John—No, "Place aux dames"—Madame La France, John Bull, the Cubans, Dons, Ligurians and Abyssinians completely out of the public noddle—or noodle, Madame La France has suddenly stopped screaming across the Channel at John Bull, and her suspicious silence after her recent fit of passion, makes silly people think that she is going to try her nails on the old man's rubicund face. Our Spanish friends were in joyous spirits owing to Weyler's telegram that he has smashed the rebels and they are skedaddling all over the island! This is certainly stunning news if true: but that's the rub. If it's a crammer, Weyler and Baron Munchausen will go down to posterity arm in arm.

The news from Chile yesterday evening was of the bombshell order and was solely responsible for the rocket-like soar of the Gold Eagle. A thrill ran like wildfire through the whole city at cocktail hour when it became known that Chile had finally replied with an emphatic No!! to the final Argentine proposals, and there was a rush for the fourth edition of the Tiempo, which contained the stunning news. Chile now says "Divortia aquarum" or Arbitration, just as Ex-President Pellegrini, said months ago in the Senate "The Andes or War." Dr. Quirno Costa, the Argentine Minister in Chile, has asked the Government to recall him, so our colleague states; but we hear on excellent authority that the Government here has received no such request. On making enquiries late last night we became almost convinced that our colleagues on both sides of the Andes—especially on this—are responsible for the sensational parts of the news received.

We had yesterday the pleasure of a letter from our absent Director, Mr. William F. Mulhall, who is enjoying his well-earned vacation at Quequen. The moment he arrived he jumped almost from the railway carriage into the sea, and enjoyed his swim prodigiously. He likes Quequen greatly and says the days are Neptunean and the nights Wagnerian. There are two lovely and talented ladies at the hotel whose splendid singing is the greatest charm of the place. The weather is very cold and bracing now at the Kilkee of the River Plate.

The Tiro Federal pow-wow at Palermo is the great local event to-day. There will be an enormous crowd of fashionables and military officers. The programme is immense, and some splendid rifle shooting is anticipated. We hope the storm predicted by the Pergamino Twins will not come along to spoil sport.

Calle Stoney Batter, alias San Martin, was worse than ever yesterday, and it was as much as a man's life was worth to cross the street yesterday after the late rains. Two of our Bolsa friends in crossing over to Funes and Lagos's left thsir boots behind in the middle of the street and walked in their stockinged feet down Grafton street, looking for the first boot and shoe shop, to get shod.

Another Royal goose anxious to brave "Afric's burning clime." Count Gleichen. Her Majesty's cousin, wants her to allow him to join the Dongola expedition, but she is hardly likely to do so with the recent loss of Prince Henry of Battemberg before her eyes.

Yesterday, according to letters received, the first troop of carts for the Strawberry Railway started with materials for General Acha. The whole country about there is turned inside out with the stir which the laying of the first sod has caused.

Everyone wants to know who the new B. Aires Provincial Minister of Hacienda will be. Strange fact, we have not seen the name of a single candidate as yet. Nevertheless, on Tuesday the time is out, according to the constitution, for naming the Minister.

We have to thank an old friend from Dublin for a beautiful St. Patrick's day addition to our STANDARD Library—"Graves of Irishmen in England"—"Old Dublin"—"Excursions around Dublin." Our friends in Ireland seem determined to stand by us, as it was only the other day we received a most beautiful handbook of Belfast, from which we will publish a few extracts at the first spare moment. Meanwhile, mark it down readers, that the largest ship-yard in the world is in Belfast.

We are authorized to state that there is not a word of truth in the "Social Life" paragraph of our breezy evening colleague El Diario, as to the popular manager of the Co-operative Telephone Company, Mr. Penrose, having come in for a peerage and a fortune of £60,000. The news is not true as yet, but we live in the hope of saluting Mr. Penrose on its truth some day.

The young girl Henriette Verges, who was brought out on board the Bresil by poor Mme. Sajous, died at sun-rise yesterday morning on board the floating hospital, 9 hours after her arrival. It certainly seems little short of down-right—well—cruelty, to have moved her when so dangerously ill and especially at night. It was 9 o'clock on Friday evening when the unfortunate girl arrived on board the Rodolfo del Vise, and certainly it was not the sort of night for moving a patient in high fever as it was bitterly cold and windy.

The medal struck for the inauguration of the Tiro Federal at Palermo to-day by Messrs. Gottuzzo and Costa of 860 Calle Piedad, is a fine work of art that does them high honour.

We warmly thank our esteemed contemporary El Tiempo for its very kind and breezy salute to our junior editor on his return from Europe with Hrace's Ode to Erin in his pocket and a white bear led by a chain attached to his wrist. We invite our colleague to come and see the white bear, which has trotted as far as he could on land from the North Pole, to see if he could make a little money on the Buenos Aires Bolsa.

The manager of the Engine-house at the Port reported yesterday a most dastardly attempt, happily frustrated, to injure the machinery under his charge. A piece of wood was found to have been inserted in one of the valves, and had it not been discovered in time the hydraulic gear moving the draw-bridges and winches on the port would all have been thrown out of order, necessitating a total stoppage of work and immense loss of time and money. Several men have been arrested, but it is feared that a plot must be involved to injure the machinery, as in order to insert the piece of wood it must have been necessary to unscrew and remove several pieces of the mechanism.

We gave the young National Guards who are going to Curumalan a hint the other day as to how French soldiers manage to keep their tents warm with heated stones during the coldest winter nights. Now we have another hint for them from a veteran Argentine officer who has seen much of hard service. It is this: Young soldiers in the field for the first time are peculiarly liable to catch rheumatism in the knees and thighs, and as a preventive our veteran friend recommends the young Guards to wear thick, long woollen stockings reaching well above the knees, and a thick flannel "faja" next the skin over their hips. This tip is well worth bearing in mind by our young citizen warriors.

We are delighted to find that the Entertainment Society at Montevideo is in rattling good health, as, last year, it looked rather sickly, was as black as a boot under the eyes, and its hair was falling out. Since then, however, it has picked up, and its member roll has risen from 62 to 87. It netted $522 against only $356 in the previous year, and it was able to bestow $349 in charity against $240. Mr. Walter Baring, H. M. Minister, has been re-elected President of the Society with the following new Committee: Messrs Stanham, Schwartz, Denstone, J. S. Reid, P. C. Towers, Lane, Wingate, Atkinson, D. O'Donoghue, J. D. Hogge and Cruikshank.

We are keeping our eye on the progress of the Argentine Dairy. The R. M. San. Dube took home amongst her valuable cargo of produce 500 kilos of cheese and 1200 of butter, and wheat to make his bread: verily, Argentina is helping to feed John Bull and his large family.

Although they have failed in Montevideo in their attempt to make Holy Saturday a holiday, we have a good chance of having it here, as all the "mayorista" firms have decided to close their houses from Spy Wednesday to Easter Monday. If the Bolsa and banks follow suit, the thing is done.

We return our best thanks to our esteemed colleague the Produccion Argentina for its kind salute to our Director, Mr. William F. Mulhall who has gone for a brief rest at the seaside after a long and very hard pull at the editorial oar during our junior editor's absence in Europe.

The most amusing thing yet in connection with the "Don ('t) go la" expedition that has put Madame la France into such tantrums is the cool demand of some of the papers of her beautiful sister Miss Italy, that John Bull, who has so generously sailed in to help her, should be asked for guarantees before she accepts his spontaneous assistance!! How truly feminine! Lovely Italy first asks the big man to help her, and the moment he does so and she is sure of him, turns round, pouts, and wants something more and quite different from him. If Miss Italy had had the good fortune to capture the hand and heart of John Bull when he was a young bachelor ever so long ago, and was Mrs. Bull, she could scarcely go further in womanly inconsistency and unreasonableness. No wonder that France and Italy are called and classed amongst the female nations.

Anyone wishing to secure really good English furniture and excellent oil paintings by celebrated artists should not miss the opportunity of going to Mr. Miller's sale on the 25th inst at the Quinta, 433 Calle Florida, Flores. The furniture will be on view to-morrow and Tuesday, for full particulars see our advertisement columns—by Guillermo Gowland and Co.

Sweltering Panama again. Dates to February 20th, and about as much, or rather as little news as usual. They had two stiff shocks of earthquake there on the 19th. The coffee crop of Central America this year is magnificent. President Barrios of Guatemala, on January 28th notified Spain's representative that that country could not comply with his request to suppress the revolutionary propaganda in favour of the Cubans, when it was made within the law. Nicaragua advices say that since the Nicaraguan Government assumed full sway over the Mosquito Reservation a great many marked improvements have been made, such as the building of telegraph and telephone lines along the cost and to the interior. Work was begun on a railroad from Bluefields to Rama and from Rama to San Ulaldo.

FASHIONS AND ACTUALITIES.

There exists in Buenos Aires a saloon to which I have never introduced you, my dear readers, although, I am most familiar with the place. In all respets it merits a visit. First, it is the rendez-vous of all that constitutes the "livre d'or" of feminine beauty, and of masculine celebrity, and besides, the proprietor is himself a real artist, which is more uncommon than one thinks, because in art, if there are many called by this name, "ily a peu d'elus." I will now tell you the name of this studio, it belongs to Witcomb, the photographer in Calle Florida, by whom we are all enchanted to have our features reprodnced. He has just renewed his exhibition, and a visit at this moment possesses all the attractions of novelty.

It has been long the fashion here for handsome photographs, they not only remind one of dear faces, but also of a "toilette de bal," or a disguise which has had a great success in the world; of an hour that has passed like hours pass, or that of youthfulness full of hope and which has already attained all its promises.

There was a time, when, we women, were afraid of photography, which we reproached for not knowing how to idealize our beauty, but art, here like everywhere, has improved, and the photograph which merits its name and reputation is sure to-day to effect marvels which are actually competing with painting and it not unfrequently happens that photographs so much resemble paintings that connoisseurs of the latter may mistake them for for the original.

Have you already thought of your hat for the next season? You know it is high time to do it, in spite of the sun which is playing you false.

The milliners who have the calendar at hand only occupy themselves with the summer temperature to imprecate when it lasts too long; and have already unpacked some of their cases. As regards the Ciudad de Londres they have on show from to-morrow a large assortment of hats and bonnets which will serve as models for the new fashions.

"Apropos" of the Ciudad de Londres, I have been reproached for mentioning it so often im my correspondence. Tell me frankly, am I wrong? It is not because Mr. Brun is my countryman, but one must admit that his establishment is always the first to lead the way in feminine fashions, and I cannot do less than cite this emporium when I have to inform you of the novelties each season brings us.

The same reproach can be made me about Lombardi; but then it would prohibit me from speaking to you, Mesdames, of the tailor-costumes, which are his speciality and that you particularly like to put on. He has just introduced into this kind of dress some modifications which make it resemble more the Louis XV style, which is the style adopted for the present Autumn season.

The basques of the body are more puffed, and the bodice instead of being round finishes at a point. I cannot, for my part, sufficiently applaud this change, and more especially this new shape, which is so advantageous to the waist. One must really be as slender as a reed, and naturally have a long waist to be able to wear the skirt over the body. By this happy idea which the artist Lombardi has introduced, we shall be as thin as wasps, and that will be charming!

SECOND RING..... 223.50%

The bears got an awful dressing to-day. The bulls put on the screw most unmercifully, seeing by the faint efforts of the bears to cover that there was a big shortage, and the squeeze was tremendous. Every operation seemed to wring a groan out of exhausted Bruin; every sale marked an advance; and though the market was prepared for a "corner" and a certain buoyancy or elasticity in prices, as the pressure increased or relaxed, it was completely floored when the quotation shot up almost in a bound to 322 and threatened to stay there, such was the heavy demand for cash gold. The bears were flanked, surrounded, harrassed and squeezed. The rates bounded; "compro" was the cry all round, and such was the influence of the scene on the outside market straining in the wake of the speculation, that rumours began to get rife of fresh complications in Chile, Quirno Costa resuming his trunk-packing, and all the unpromising consequences that a diplomatic rupture would entail. The purchase of the new ironclad by our transandine neighbours was also much discussed; but though the Chilian question's new development, and the possibility of war always exert a certain pressure, it must not be forgotten that the actual state of the market was working the lever. Rumors were rife all day and it was known that there was an unusual stir in the Government House. The report spread at one moment that news had been received to the effect that the Chilians were massing troops on the frontier. Exchange continues weak. The advices from abroad about stocks and produce are most reassuring, but they scarcely seem to influence gold in the slightest, and this strengthens the conviction that gold is still cheap, with a very desolate end of month outlook for the bears.

Business at the first hour in gold embraced something overa million dollars, of which the giant's share was for cash, nearly half a million changing hands, opening at 320.50, or say nearly two points over the closing rate yesterday, spurting rapidly to 322, and then settling down to fluctuate between this rate and 321, leaving off firm at 321.20, sellers holding out for 321.50. The contango kept very firm both for end month and end of April, say a "pase" of 1 and 5 points respectively, and there was very little disposition to sell for latter date, the only business done being in passes; the rates left off firm at 322, and 326. Only small amounts were noted for other dates. In stocks there was considerable demand for National F Cedulas, and a small parcel of French banks changed hands at 45.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—
$ 434,000 for cash at 320.50-321-322-321 321.50-321-322-321.50-322-321 30-80-50-20-50-20.
$ 290,000 March 31st at 322-323-322-323-322.50-322-323-322.50-323-322 322.50-20-50.
$ 69,000 March 28th at 323.50-323-322 322.50-322.
$ 5,000 April 8th at 323.50.
$ 24,000 March 23rd at 321.50--322.
$ 30,000 April 15th at 325-325.50-325.
$ 179,000 April 30th at 326-326.50-326-327-326-327-326-326.50-326.
$ 50,000 May 31st at 329-328.50-330-329.

Funded Bonds of the Floating Debt—

Very little doing in exchange was the report to-day. Some sterling was passed at 47⅞ d., but drawers then pretended 47 ¾ d. and it was said that the National Government had taken a good deal through the banks. Rates are quoted—
47¾-7/8d on London.
5.04-5.05 fcs. on Paris.
5.06-5.07 fcs. on Antwerp.
4.08-4.09 mks on Hamburg.

Disconnts were quoted at 8⅝ to 9%.

Now that the South seems waking up the Government should take time by the forelock and see about carrying out two important and much needed works, that is bridges over the Rio Colorado and Rio Negro. Both are very badly wanted and would contribute powerfully to the development of the whole region, especially if the colonization of the Colorado is carried out. Congress actually voted some time back the funds for the Rio Negro bridge, but nothing was ever done, the matter being probably quite forgotten in the military movement going on, purchase of ironclads and armament, settlement of limits question, yellow fever scare and so on. But the bridges have to come, and the business might as well be tackled now as later on.

With reference to a query in our last issue about paper tarpaulins, the manager of the Gourock Ropework here, Mr. George H. Clarke, called on us to-day, and very pertinently asked us why buy paper, when a better article is to be had. His company, which is the biggest concern in this line in the world, having started 160 years ago, has a fine deposit at 243 Mejico, and has filled orders from all the leading railway companies here, having some important orders still on hand. It has warehouses all over the world, in frigid Christiana and torrid Bombay, its system being to eliminate "drummers" and start agencies and deposits wherever there is a promise of business. Their Birkmyre tarpaulins are a special feature of the trade.

Poor Santa Fé! It is in a melancholy state of disorder and dilapidation: the colonies broken up by bad harvests and harrassed by the tax gatherer, lands falling, credit collapsing, and the Government's revenue on the increase, shewing a superavit of 1½ million on the estimates, which sum is proposed to be applied to the building of a cathedral. The fact of lands falling is not only to be attributed to a bad year; it is well known that for some time past the colonists have been migrating—driven out by the merciless manner in which the taxes are heaped up, and it would be very advisable to stay on the cathedral, and allow a certain percentage on the valuations. Everything about the province, in fact, seems to have gone awry. The Rosario Customs returns shew a falling off of $690,141 in 1895 as compared with 1894, which is attributed to the state of the port as regards difficulty and danger of navigation, and here again the surplus would come in handy. That the business is not anemic is evidenced by the exports in 1895 being 3¼ million dollars ahead of those of 1894. But what between taxes and bad harvests and sandbanks and politics, Santa Fé is in a bad way.

The 55th number of the Produccion Argentina has come out in its usual newsy style. The leader treats on the exports and returns of the Republic. Another interesting subject is on the breeding of goats with two or three very good explanatory engravings. We congratulate Mr. P. Pages, agricultural reporter of our colleague, on his appointment as administrater in the Venado estancia, which belongs to Sr. F. Senillosa. Mr. Pages owes his place to his able articles in the Produccion Argentina. Don Carlos Lix Klett's report on the situation of the produce markets is first-class.

We have received a letter from Messrs Flint, Eddy and Co, anent the "paper tarpaulins", advising that they are prepared to supply any quantity. The firm's address is 891 Avenida de Mayo.

The following are the wool and cereal exports for week:—

	tons		$ gold
Wheat.....	33,500	=	753,750
Maize.....	13,000	=	208,000
Linseed	10,500	=	399,000
Wool.....	850	=	175,950
Total			1,536,700
Last week's..			2.887,800
In favour of last week			1,351,100

When it is remembered that last week there was a falling off of nearly ¾ million gold dollars as compared with previous week we see the lethargy in business at present. During first week of the month the exports were 3¾ millions; to-day they are considerably less than half. No wonder things in general should be looking down and gold up. Taking the items separately there has been a good increase in wheat, slight increase in linseed, moderate decline in maize, and tremendous decline in wool.

The news from London to-day gives another advance in London and River Plate Bank shares, which now stand at 4L. We hope to see them soon at 50. The Buenos Aires Great Southern are stiff at 133, and bound for 140, and the Western of Buenos Aires, which a couple of years ago were kicking about Moorgate street at 7 to 8, are to-day 12¾ and marching on to 15. Let but the Chilian question be once settled, and all these stocks will run up 25 per cent. One of the shrewdest London bankers, writes us to that effect.

The fall in exchange to-day was very stiff—evidently the Government is taking very largely, and the supply of bills is not up to the mark.

Don Carlos Casado, the well-known Rosario banker, capitalist and railway proprietor, has arrived with his family at Mendoza, having crossed the Andes from Chile. His friends here anxiously await his arrival in town to welcome him on 'Change and find out the real truth of the state of affairs in Chile.

It is worthy of note now how exchange is rapidly falling in the 3 greatest markets of South America. Exchange is down in Chile, Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro.

The auction sale of Mr. Thurburn's beautiful furniture in his house over the bank is announced. It is necessitated owing to the removal of his bank from the Carabassa corner to the head establishment across the street, as the house in question will no longer be occupied by Mr. Thurburn, who now permanently resides in his charming quinta at the Lomas.

Another violent spurt in gold market, the business at the second hour, and as exchange is in a state of comatose collapse, the Bears cornered and exports lethargic the week, closes on almost a panicky market. It would seem, indeed, as if the shortage of gold were very heavy, but a prominent bull, dilating on this head thinks not. "The shortage", he said, need not be very great to account for the market as it stands, when you consider the fall in exchange. The market has been swept clean, everything offered snapped up and rates swooping headlong. Something was done to-day at 47⅝d, but there are no longer drawers over 47¾. It is straining the point, therefore, to go further afield seeking the cause of the rise, rubbing up rumours warlike or otherwise, digging out "descubiertos, etc.," there is undoubtedly great distrust and this with the state of the exchange market form the leverage power. These ideas are generally accepted. But there is nevertheless a suspicion that the bears are uncomfortably short and unable to replace, which will not tend to smooth matters.

There was a slight hitch in the liquidation to-day and the liquidator bought in:

$ gold
10,000	at	323.60
8,000	at	323.50

Business in gold at the second ring embraced 669,200 dollars almost monopolized by cash and end of month, the rates opening with a rattling advance on the closing prices of the morning and working up steadily to 324 cash and 325 end of month, when a slight reaction set in and prices relaxed. The price at the close was 323½, but after the hour there was some gold over and buyers asked 323,20.

The "paso" for April kept firm at an average of say 5 points and for June 333 was done. Stocks as usual quiet.

The following is a summary of the operations effected to-day at the second ring:—

The cables to-day from London shew Argentine stocks still improving which created a very favorable impression on Change, with gold going up so fast. The Financial Times, it seems, had an optimist leader, yesterday, on the economic situation of Argentina, which it considers never to have been better than at present. The news was much commented on in the hall, The Morgan loan is quoted firm at 75½ and the City Improvements at 67¾.

The Deptford telegrams were, however, not so cheerful. The fall in prices continues, Argentine steers selling at £9 to 12 and wethers at 25/ to 28/.

The great auction sale by Bullrich at San Fermin, one of the model estancias of the country, comes off to-morrow, and we suppose all the estancieros in town will be there.

It seems that National Cedulas were rather freely offered on'Change to-day and as they do not come much on the market it was said that it was for foreign account.

The Rentas Office has asked the Minister of Finance to order Engineer Duclout to draw a plan of the South bank of the Riachuelo, to see what rent the owners of ship-yards and workshops should pay for the ground they occupy.

The plans for rebuilding the mole at Santa Fé have been sent to the Finance Minister.

The Inspector at La Plata has reported to the Finance Minister that the following Live Stock was exported from that port in 33 steamer:

Steers.....	7,759
Sheep.....	24,362
Horse.....	1
Forrage....	5,184,752 kilos

All went to London, except a small consignment for Dunkirk and another for Brazil.

The Minister of Finance has fixed the price of gold for payment of Custom-dues at 323.50 for Monday, March 23rd.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

Business at the marts to-day was exceptionally dull. Messrs. Bollini and Alcorta offered 192 hectares in Cañuelas, 1 leaguetfrom Uribellarrea (part of the old Moore estancia) alongside the Moore, Cepeda and Solano properties, with base of $80 the hectare, which was not reached and the sale was abandoned. As we have pointed there is more demand now for cheap outside lands, the inside camps being neglected. Yesterday we reported the failure of Las Flores camp to move off and now this Cañuelas land is neglected, which is proof in point.

Messrs. Fuues, Lagos and Co., sold the following mares, property of General Bosch:—

With reference to the sale of camp in Dr. Irigoyen's Colony in Concordia, we hear of a further lot of half a league, fenced in, situated South of the Yarua colony and alongside Captain Shand's and Mr. Page's estancias sold for $30,000, which does not seem dear, as prices run there. Mrs. Maria Ledesma is the buyer and the Mardaná heirs sellers.

With regard to the quinta and furniture reported sold in our last issue our printer's D—l mixed up things again with his usual freedom and felicity, as the quinta is situated in Lomas not Flores, and we have every reason to suppose, in view of the circumstances of the case and judging from reliable informations drawn from credible sources, that the furniture in question is there also. It should have been evergreen Lomas and not blooming Flores.

We hear there is great demand for wethers both for export and to "invernar" the supply offering being small. Talking to an estanciero in this regard to-day, he told us he had a lot of 6 to 8 thousand, mestizo Lincoln for sale and pretensions not extravagant.

The sale is reported of 1250 cows in Tandil at $16 per head, calves in, that is not counted. Buyer Mr. Real de Azua the Chascomus estanciero, owner of that splendid property known as the Rincon del Ajo.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

The winding up of the week's business withdrew the daily concourse in our markets. What with accounts and the intermediate flashes of the sun, consignatarios considered it better to hold out till Monday for operations. It is a peculiar feature in produce circles, that with a rising gold premium, the sales all round seem to fall off, as long as gold was down large transactions were daily reported in maize, wheat and wool, and now that everything favours these articles one notices that instead of progressing there is a sharp fall in both demand and competition. Where it is most noticed is in Rosario—the centre of cereals, the drowsiness that has come on that market is put down to the inconsistent movements of the Buenos Aires Bolsa. Every excuse is to a point plausible, but one who has the run of affairs in the said Bolsa finds the pretence very poor.

One can well understand that our markets here suffer on a Saturday, as everybody is aware that the business transactions do not fit into a hat, but why other small markets should be affected with the current spleen is beyond the grasp of many.

The past rains have done some damage, but the youngster—maize—is thriving and promises to throw all other grains out of the market.

The London colonial wool auctions ended up in a brilliant style; at the wind up prices jumped, competition increased, running off with 73,000 bales and only leaving 3,000 bales on the auctioneers' hands. A slight damper was the news from Antwerp, but tho difference of a few centimes tells very little on our markets. Our stock is still over 10,000,000 ks. and from what we have heard there are several large orders on hand. From certain authorities we hear that 700,000 kilos of wool were sold this morning, but taking circumstances into consideration we doubt if the sales arrived at these figures. The prices do not seem to have moved, but we depend on Messrs. Devoto, Balbiani and Co.'s review to give an exact idea of the current rates.

Our foreign textile markets appear to have sufficient on hand for working purposes; the point is whether they will have enough for the season, or rather say the year, as it often noticed here that towards the end of the season several "artistas" are hard pushed and are obliged to pay prices that do not tend towards filling their pockets.

The following was sold in the Central Produce Market:—

Wheat is now quoted at 24s. 9d. in London, linseed at 30s. 6d. and maize at 18s. The telegrams from Antwerp report linseed at 19¾ francs, maize at 8 and wheat at 14 francs.

The wheat markets have closed firm, a couple of thousand bags were sold in the Once, the consumo paying for superior barletta 8.20.

A few transactions were also done in maize, 2000 bags were sold in the Darsena at 3.05 and 3.20, in the Riachuelo 800 were sold at 3.10, and 658 bags in the Boca at 3.10. Superior morocho was quoted at 2.70. Nothing was spoken of in linseed.

The same old tune, Rosario has assumed a conservative view, and refuses to budge even at the insinuations of the Gold Eagle. A couple of millers strolled in for custom's sake and bought a few bags at 7.15 and 7.20. The quantity was so small that the market reporters refuse to state them. Maize—in the cold, nobody seems to pay the slightest attention to the article, the cold shoulder is visible on all sides.

The linseed consignatarios managed to despatch 500 quintals and 1,300 bags at 9.60 and 9.70. Very large operations for a centre like Rosario.

Montevideo complains of the bad weather, which it states stops all competition in cereals, and throws a dreary aspect on all business. The sales 1,000 bags wheat at 2.50 and 2.80 and about 470 bags maize at 95 cents.

The saladero in Arroyo Negro sold 20,000 steer horns at 100$ the thousand. A large number of live-stock was sold in Paysandú for fattening purposes at 11 for steers and 8 for cows.

The depression in wool circles is growing darker and darker, and to crown this pleasant state, we hear that cow-hides have suffered another fall. No prices are quoted.
